

BRYAN WILSON
WANTS EVERYBODY TO CLAP THEIR HANDS
Stellar/Dove Award Nominated Vocalist's New Single

“Everybody Clap Your Hands (The Moon Song)” Is Building Momentum At Radio Gospel star Bryan Wilson is back on the corner with a track to rock the block - for Jesus that is. His latest single “Everybody Clap Your Hands (The Moon Song)” is currently making its way to gospel radio stations around the country. “It’s just a happy, feel good song,” Wilson says. “It’s a fun way to praise the Lord and thank Him for the things that he has done for all of us.” The song is currently available as a digital download on all the major online music stores such as amazonmp3, itunes, rhapsody, napster, and pandora.

Wilson, best-known for recording “His Eye is on the Sparrow” with the Mississippi Children’s Choir back in 1994 and “If You’re Talking About Jesus” from this year’s Top 10 smash CD “Shoutin’ Down the Aisles,” is in the studio working on his fourth solo CD which is tentatively scheduled for a first quarter 2011 release.

In the meantime, Wilson is head to Canada for his first tour of the country that will take him to the cities of Toronto, Montreal, and Hamilton. While there, Wilson will make several radio station visits, bookstore walk-thrus, and appear on Canada’s two leading Christian television programs “100 Huntley Street” and the Grace TV Network’s “Encounter with Peter Youngren.”
